Buddy races on his bike and pedals quickly laughing and pointing as he passes Max. Suddenly, Max is under the tires of a passing car screaming. His bike is crushed. Everything turns upside down, then just blackness A chilling mystery that spans decades, Joel Mombergs Home Movies proves that in order to live in the present, sometimes one must first uncover the past. Buddy Rosen, an enthusiastic yet troubled kindergarten teacher, loses himself in the fantasy families he discovers while watching old home videos. But everything changes when Buddy stumbles across one of his own familys reels that had been seemingly lost for years. Flickering across the screen, Buddy watches his father, aged and wandering against the backdrop of a far off city. There is just one problem: Buddys father died as a very young man. Suddenly faced with the possibility that his long dead father may actually be alive, Buddy embarks on a journey to find out what really happened all those years ago. What follows is a twisting tale full of murder, lies, and a desperate search for the truth. This item ships from La Vergne,TN. Paperback.
