Rand does . Rand Oldfield is sick of school - sick of his control freak teacher, Ms. Kern, sick of memorizing pointless facts, and sick of sitting in a desk all day. Rand just started the eighth grade, but he doesn t think he ll even make it through the first month. In fact, he doesn t. Inspired by a book he read over the summer, A Clockwork Orange, Rand decides to write his summer reading essay on it. The only problem? It s not on the approved reading list. He turns it in anyways, receives an F, and decides to pull the ultimate prank in revenge - a school-wide lockout. After this prank, Rand is permanently expelled from Lockwood School District. He walks out of class, taking two of his classmates with him. One is Henry David, a popular rich kid with a passion for collecting insects and studying botany. The other student is Liberty, or Libby, a street-smart tomboy whose parents committed suicide when she was 6 years old. The three dropouts embark on a freedom quest that leads to building a tree house hideout, starting a secret society, putting on punk shows, committing crimes, going to jail, and ultimate redemption when something surprising happens the day of Rand s trial. What will the verdict be? Will Rand be a prisoner for the rest of his life? Or, will school truly be out forever in Lockwood?.
