Reviews

This type of publication is every thing and helped me seeking ahead and much more. It usually fails to charge too much. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

Excerpt: . . . We can care for it so that the drought of summer or the frosts of winter do not retard its growth. It is a product congenial to our soil and climate, it will thrive as well on the hillside as in the valley, it matters not whether the land cants toward the north or toward the south. It is a product in demand all the year round, and sought for by the world at large. There is no danger of an overproduction or a decrease in value; it is never out of date or behind the times, it is always on the move and ready for any emergency. It is a product that needs pure air, sunshine, lots of exercise and good influences. I refer to the Vermont boys and girls, chiefly those educated at the Caledonia County Grammar School. Vermont, a State which all her sons and daughters, whether by birth or education, learn to love and cherish. A State that has sent out into the world more great men and Christian women to the square acre than any other spot upon Gods footstool. A State that has yet within its limits sufficient Presidential timber to run this Government for the next century. Vermont, a State proud to be born in, a State delightful to live in, a State whose hillside homes lie so near the boundary of the skies it must be a joyous State to die in. That one was born...
