Excerpt: . . . samples, whose mineral constituents stand in such close resemblance. 3 No connection could be established between chemical composition of the waters and the striking differences observed in their radioactive properties. I Weed, W. H. , Geological Sketch of the Hot Springs District, Arkansas. Senate Documents, Vol. 20, No. iSt, 79 (1902). (Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.) The results are summarized in a paper published by Dr. Boltwood in the American Journal of Science, 20, 128 (1905). During the past year the writer has determined the quantity of radium present in several tufa deposits from Hot Springs. The results obtained demonstrate that the quantities of radium present in some of the samples examined greatly exceed the quantity found in the particular sample tested by Dr. Boltwood. Such marked variations as he found in the quantities of radium emanation present in the water samples are...
