The head waters of Tippecanoe River spread over portions of its territory, and bring it within the beautiful and fertile domain of the Wabash Valley. Building stone and cement, grains, fruits and vegetables, sleek dairy herds, the ungainly but invaluable swine, and the noble steed, now being relegated to minor consideration, have all their parts in the progress, prosperity and historic position of Kosciusko County. Progressive farmers and merchants, alert and educated lawyers and judges, high-minded men and women giving their best to educational and religious advancement, have also made this special section of the Hoosier State a credit to the human type for which it stands. Intellectual and religious natures from every section of the United States find solace and inspiration in the world-famed Chautauqua Assembly at Winona Lake, and thousands who are tired mentally and physically seek the beautiful lakes and well appointed summer resorts of Kosciusko County as surcease from their unrest and exhaustion. And never do they seek in vain. Nature seems here in her best and most invigorating mood. Thus have large manufactures, finished farms, handsome summer homes, charming villages on the shores of sunny lakes, growing towns and cities, and a great advancing section of Indiana come into being within the memory of men and women...
